A Match Caused by a Shoe

A fashionable shoemaker tells a pretty little story that reads well even though it may be a cunningly devised lie. His work is exclusively in ladies' foot-wear, and to an inquisitive reporter he said: "Last year I made a pair of shoes for a lady who had as pretty feet as were ever fashioned. It was a pleasure for me to make the shoes, and when they were finished I put them in the show-window in a very conspicuous place, where I could view them at my leisure. Pretty soon a nicely-dressed gentleman stopped and began viewing them very attentively. Presently he entered the store and inquired if they were for sale. I told him no, that they were made for one of my customers. He looked surprised and asked the lady's name. I would not give him this much satisfaction, but told him where she lived, however. I was considerably surprised to learn afterward that he was calling at the house, and more surprised still, when the lady, accompanied by the gentleman, called at the store three months later. She called him 'dear' then, so I guess they were married."

Queer People in the Catskills.

Queer Peeple in the Catskills.

There are some queer people in the Catskills. The other day I and a friend called at the "Rip Van Winkle House," got two milk punches, two more ditto, and two cigars. I handed the elderly Ganymede behind the bar $5. After much thought he handed me back $5.40. "You've made a mistake," said I. "That's so," said he, after more thought. Then he scooped in the $5 and left me the 40 cents. "That's another mistake," said I. After much deliberation he pushed over the five-dollar bill to me and said: "Oh, pay when you come again." "But I'm not coming again," I persisted. That troubled him. With a great mental effort he figured up for a full minute. The compound arithmetical problem was too much for him. "Oh, take a drink and call it square!" said he. Queer people, the Catskillians. In one respect they are like the peace of God—they pass all understanding.—Traveler.

Cheerful Conversation.

Cheerful Conversation.

That part of life which we ordinarily understand by the word conversation is an indulgence to the sociable part of our make, and should incline us to bring our proportion of good will or good humor among the friends we meet with, and not to trouble them with relations which must of necessity oblige them to a real or feigned affliction. Cares, distresses, diseases, uneasiness and dislikes of our own are by no means to be obtruded upon our friends. If we would consider how little of this vicissitude of motion and rest which we call life is spent with satisfaction, we should be more tender of our friends than to bring them little sorrows which do not belong to them. There is no real life, but cheerful life; therefore valetudinarians should be sworn before they enter into company not to say a word of themselves until the meeting breaks up.—Spectator.

Many a man thinks it is principle that teeps him from turning rascal, when it is mly a full stomach. Be grateful, and do not nistake potatoes for principle.

THE New York Copper lately cited the case of Captain Jacob Schmidt, of Tompkinsville, Staten Island, N. Y., who had been a great sufferer with rheumatism for many years. He used St. Jacobs Oil with splendid success.

Dr. R. V. Piercer, Buffalo, N. Y.: Demoire Prescription has done for me. I had been a great sufferer from female complaints, especially "dragging-down," for over six years, during much of the time unable to work. I paid out hundreds of dollars without any benefit till I took three bottles of the "Favorite Prescription," and I never had anything to do me so much good in my life. I advise every sick lady to take it. Mrs. EMILY RROADS, McBrides, Mich.

Trade-Marks.

The importance of a law that would protect trade-marks is receiving marked attention from the business public as well as from Congress, the brands on some goods adding largely to their commercial value, because their ment is known to the consumer, and the buyer looks to trade-mark as constituting his security. Thus the Gorham trade-mark on sterling silverware; Colgates' mark to indicate the various grades of their scaps and toilet goods, has also very high commercial value. The CHARTER OAK STOVE has a peculiar value of its own which so distinguishes it from all others that it has acquired very large commercial value. Lorillard Tobaccos are goods that the consumer asks for in the same way. The law cannot be too severe in protecting bonest manufacturers. The burning of the great stove works gave dealers some excuse for substituting other stoves for the CHARTER OAK, but now that the CHARTER OAK factory is at work again turning out over 200 stoves a day, the trade can get their orders filled promptly, and the year 1881 bids fair to aurpass all previous years in the demand forthe famous CHARTER OAK make.

Milliam J. Coughlan, of Somerville, Mass., says: "In the fall of 1876 I was taken with a siciled bleeding of the lungs, followed by a severe cough. I was admitted to the City Hospital. While there the doctors said I had a hole in my left lung as big as a half dollar. I gave up-hope, but a friend told me of Dn. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. I got a bottle, when to my surprise I commenced to feel better, and to-day I feel in better spirits than I have the past three years. A VETERAN SEAMAN'S TROUBLE.

Bilter Inter-Occus, Chicago, Ill.: I send you this, seeling that the information conveyed will be of material benefit to many of your readers. One of our oldest citizens, Captain C. W. Boynton, the Government Light-house Keeper at this point, is probably one of the oldest seamen in America, laving sailed twenty-six years on sails water. After this forty-six years service his eye-sight failed him and he kept the Lightst Chicago until the Government built the Gross Point Light here, when he was transferred. While seated in my store this morning the Captain volunteered the following written statement: "This is to certify that I have been afflicted with rheumatism for twenty (2) years, both in my side and limbs. I am happy to say that, after using less than two bothes of the St. Jacoss Ott., I am entirely free from pain, though still impling somewhat when walking, from long force of habit. C. W. BoyNTON. Referring to the foregoing facts. I might alinde to numerous similar cases that have come to my motice, but "a word to the wise is sufficient."
